DR'S. BURTON & BURTON,

SPECIALISTS!

Have associated themselves together and limit their practice exclusively to diseases of the EYE, EAR, NOSE, MOUTH AND THROAT, DISEASES OF WOMEN, GENITO URINARY, RECTAL DISEASES AND SURGERY.

Dr. E. L. Burton, Jr's., practice for the past year in McKinney and surrounding country speaks for itself. He has had unparalled success, for which his patients will vouch.

Out of a record of over three hundred surgical operations, minor and major, there has not been a single failure.

The success of all this not only depends on being a skilful operator, but a diagnistician of wonderfully accute perception.

In disease we have a pathological alteration, or such a change as to produce a morbid or abnormal condition of the parts.

The first and most important of all factors in the treatment of disease is proper diagnosis. Next such Therapeutic measures as can be brought to bear that will remove the cause.

I have been offered hundreds of testimonials by former patients cured; but refused to publish any of them for that is not my policy.

We have a positive Cure for Piles, cured in a few days without pain, or detention from business. No cautery, knife or ligature.

URETHAL STRICTURE, and all private diseases are treated by the latest and most approved methods, (strictly confidential.)

DISEASES OF WOMEN treated skilfully and successfully by approved methods.

Dr. E. L. Burton, Sr., will give his attention to this department, having had a great amount of practical experience.

A partial list of operations for the past year will be given in the following table:

Operations.	No Oper.	Males.	Females.	Suc.	Unsuc
Strabismus (cross eyes.)	28	9	19	28	.....

This embraces only a part of the successful surgical practice of the year.
I have done all in my power to relieve those so unfortunate as to be afflicted, coming under my care.
I feel as though my past years labors have not been in vain.
My only desire is to be ever upright and honorable to all.
Now, as my practice has assumed such proportions, I have called my father in as a co-operator, and he will devote his whole attention to DISEASES OF WOMEN, ETC., while I will continue as usual.

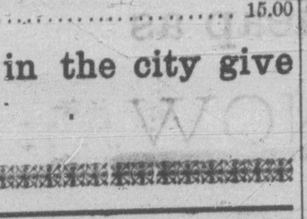
THE New CANTON STALK CUTTER



We were the first manufacturers to introduce STALK CUTTERS, and have kept abreast of the times with modern IMPROVEMENTS. They are a valuable implement preparing the ground for planting, and leaving land to be turned under, which ENRICHES THE SOIL. The Canton has spring on front end, connecting with lever, thus relieving the jerking motion from horses' necks, also giving knives a striking motion. This excellent feature is found only in the Canton. It has HIGHEST PEAL WHEELS, insuring LIGHTEST DRAFT. No Axle through centre of Reel to clog up with trash. Made with 6 Knives, so as to cut stalks short. Others have the same number of knives, but they are not properly proportioned, therefore cut the stalks same length. Send for Circular. Other points of excellence given in circular, mailed free to any address. We also manufacture Canton Clipper Plows, Volunteer and Victor Cultivators, Disc Harrows, Tricycle Sulky and Gang Plows, Grain Drills, Cotton and Corn Planters and Handle Buggies, Carts, Pumps, Wind Mills, BARB, COOPER and OLDS WAGONS. Write us for your wants.

IN THE SOUP.

QUADRUPLE MURDERER FINALLY CAPTURED.

And will be Brought to Denison —Identification Beyond Doubt—Historical.

The following telegram appeared in the associated press report yesterday: "Three days ago the police of West Superior up at the head of the big lakes made such an important arrest that they but just dared to make it public. They caught the noted desperado of Texas, Dick Edwards, who likes to be called Texas Jack, the man who is supposed to have killed four women in Denison and for whose capture rewards aggregating $7000 have been offered. The arrest was brought about in a peculiar manner. Edwards has been at West Superior for several weeks, having tried to put as much ground between himself and Texas as possible, but the police of West Superior were in ignorance of his presence until four days ago, when a dispatch from the police of St. Louis said it was believed he was there. It took but a little time to find Edwards and he was at once lodged in the Douglass county jail and closely watched. The authorities of West Superior communicated with the sheriff of Grayson county and the chief of police at Denison. They hurried to the Lake Superior town upon receipt of the dispatches and on arriving there this morning immediately identified Edwards. They have applied to Gov. Peck for requisition papers and as soon as they can be made out and forwarded to West Superior they will leave for Denison with the prisoner.

When the above was read this morning the citizens were awe-stricken, for Dick Edwards has been a resident of Denison for some years, and only knowing-ones were acquainted with the fact that he was charged with the murders committed in Denison on the night of May 17, but nevertheless the charge hangs over him and now he is, in the clutches of the law.

Wednesday morning at 12:05 Deputy Chief Hackney disappeared from the city and seemingly no one knew of his where abouts, but there are people in the city who did know but kept quiet. Sheriff Hughes joined him that night in the city and they proceeded to West Superior Minn., and the above telegram informed the people of his mission.

It is alleged now that Dick Edwards was the leader of a gang in this city who committed small burglaries, and that the past depredations were the results of his leadership. But of that only he knows.

What did he do while in the city? is the question asked. The Dispatch after diligent inquiry cannot answer, as seemingly very few people know him.

The dispatch learned this much from authentic source, that Dick Edwards was suspected of the assassination of Mrs. Dr. Haynes, Miss Forestein Hawley and the two women at the bagnios, Maud Kreamer and Rose Stewart, and that he disappeared from the city some short while after the assassinations. Every attempt to locate him proved futile after diligent endeavors.

But, murder will out.

His wife resides in this city and he was in constant communication with her under an assumed name, dating his letters here, there and at various places where he was located.

Some short while ago, so it is alleged, a letter addressed to his wife was lost in the street by some party. It was found and turned over to the officers. The officers sent an accurate description to the officers of Sulphur, Minn, from whence the letter came, and asked for the arrest of Dick Edwards. Later he was arrested in West Superior, a town near by.

The officers were informed of his arrest, and as above stated, proceeded north after the prisoner.

Last afternoon a Dispatch man called at the residence of Mr. Tom Spears on West Main street for the purpose of interviewing Mrs. Dick Edwards, but the lady was not in at the time. Mr. Spear was asked relative to the matter, and he stated that Edwards had not been a resident of Denison but had visited his wife in June. Leaving, he had gone north and hearing from him about ten days ago, had located himself in Northern Minnesota.

Mr. Spear said: "I knew nothing about the matter until a friend sent me a paper containing the item. It's a lie and I know it, for he was not in Denison at the time the murder was committed. His wife lives with us and they have been married about two years. Further of the matter I know nothing."—Denison Dispatch.

Killed His Mother.

EUFAULA, I. T., Dec. 17.—A few days ago an Indian woman wife of Yorkinha, was accidentally killed by her son in a very peculiar way. Yorkinha was away from home one day, and while he was away a squirrel was discovered by his wife in a tree in the yard. She called to her little boy, about 12 years old, to come and kill the squirrel by throwing rocks and sticks at it. The tree was a small one and the rocks came so close to the squirrel it ran down the tree to escape, and when it got near the ground on the side of the tree near the boy, he threw at it with a rock, and missing the squirrel and the tree the rock struck the mother over one eye and broke the skull. The boy ran to his mother, held her up, led her in to the house and helped her to bed, where she lay for five days and died.

Congressman Bailey at Home.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., Dec. 18—Congressman Bailey is at home from Washington and will spend the holidays with his family—which, by the way, was increased yesterday by the arrival of a fine boy baby. Mrs. Bailey is doing nicely.

Wilson is the Man.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 17—Frank Wilson, arrested here on Thursday on suspicion of having stolen diamonds and jewelry, was to-day identified as the party who entered Beck's jewelry store at Dallas, Texas, and threw pepper in the eyes of the clerk in the store and succeeded in getting away with about $1000 worth of jewelry. The clerk, accompanied by J. C. Arnold, chief of police at Dallas, arrived here this morning. The young man whose eyes had been peppered readily recognized Wilson. They will remain here until requisition papers arrive from Texas.

Tried to Tunnel Out.

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 17.—Brooks Story, one of the most celebrated criminals of the Mississippi penitentiary, concocted a bold scheme to escape. A sergeant discovered a large pit and tunnel underneath a pile of fifty cords of wood on which several prisoners have been quietly at work for a month. In less time the entire line would have completed and they would have escaped. Story, murderer, robber, engineered the affair, being ably assisted by Blair, another cold Men at Hard

IN DEATH.

Now still the room is! But awhile ago
The sound of sobbing voices vexed my ears,
And on my face there fell a rain of tears.
I scarce knew why or whence—but now I know.
For this sweet speaking silence, this surcease
Of the dumb, desperate struggle after breath,
This painless consciousness of perfect peace
Which fills the place of pain,—ah, it is Death!
What folly to have feared it! Not the best
Of all we knew as life can equal this,
Blending in one the sense of utter rest,
The vivid certainty of boundless bliss!
Oh, Death, the loveliness that is in thee,
Could the world know, the world would cease to be.

—MARY BRADLEY.

Ex-Senator Ingalls Talks.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. Dec. 18.—Ex-Senator Ingalls was in the city last night. Conversing upon the result of the election, Mr. Ingalls said there were twenty-three distinct "isms" in the late campaign, either of which was sufficient to change the existing state of affairs. "The republican party," he continued, "is now at that stage of its history where it is without hope and must start anew, build itself up. It gave no evidence in the past campaign that there was a single politician in its ranks who understood the business of modern politics. McKinley has ceased to be a Napoleon; he is without laurels or a place within the ranks of the party.

A Jealous Lover Suicides.

ALPINE, Tex., Dec. 18.—Today in the Mexican town Leandra Rosa, a jealous lover, made a murderous assault upon his girl, Miss Chono Espiriaza, with a revolver. He shot her four times and also shot at Lucille Garcia, another Mexican woman, then blew his own brains out. The county buries him. The woman's wounds are not necessarily fatal.

Weather very cold. The mountains have been covered with snow several days.

Georgia Legislature Adjourns

Atlanta, Ga, Dec. 17.—The Legislature adjourned today after a fifty-days' session. They granted pensions to soldiers and to widows of of confederate soldiers who enlisted from Georgia. All bills looking to the further hampering of railroads were lost. The Legislalature refused to accept and support a home for disabled confederate soldiers.

Rowdyism on Trains.

BONHAM, Fannin Co., Tex. Dec. 17.—The wife of a prominent merchant of this city, who had been visiting in Paris, boarded the west bound train yesterday en route home. She says the car in which she traveled was filled with men who had been in attendance on the federal court; that they were drinking, cursing and using obscene language and rudely displaying their weapons. She was the only lady in the coach until they arrived at Dodd City, when another lady entered. The men kept up their disgraceful conduct until she arrived at Bonham. This is not the first complaint that has been heard of such conduct since the federal court was established at Paris. If this conduct is permitted it will be unsafe for a lady, without a protector, to travel the short distance between Bonham and Paris. The matter should be looked into by the railroad officials and if men cannot behave themselves on the train in the presence of ladies they should be compelled to do so. The above is written by request of several prominent citizens whose wives and daughters have been compelled to endure such conduct from drunken men while going from and returning home.

Senator Gibson's Remains

Lexington, Ken., Dec. 18.—The remains of Senator Randall Lee Gibson arrived here at 6 o'clock this afternoon. They were removed to the residence of Col. Hart Gibson on Harrodsburg pike, just beyond the city limits, from where they will be taken to St. Paul's Catholic church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, where the funeral services will take place. The delegation appointed by congress to be present at the burial and pay the last respects of that body to Senator Gibson arrived here to night. Also a number of friends from New Orleans and elsewhere are here.

The Populists to be Feared by The People.

Congressman-elect Champ Clark of the Ninth Missouri District in a recent interview said: "The Democrats will have nothing to fear in the future from the Republican party. That party I honestly believe will disband, and I think the People's party will take its place as a national party. It is to the People's party whom the Democrats must look for trouble in future presidential campaigns.

"While Missouri is to-day a positive Democratic state, it is at the same time a free silver state, and with the Republican party disbanded and the Populists committed to free silver, the Democrats would have much reason to anticipate the success of the Populists in Missouri and the defeat of Democracy.—St. Louis Monitor.

An effort is being made to arrange for a grand reunion at the Wold's Fair of surviving "49-ers"—the men who left their homes in the east in 1849 to become gold hunters in California. It is thought that several thousand of them are still living and that all would make an extra effort to go to Chicago next year, were a reunion arranged as is proposed. Many of them remained in California, but the majority returned and are now scattered throughout the states east of the Mississippi.

The World's Babies in Line.

It has been computed that about 36,000,000 babies are born into the world each year. The rate of production is therefore, about seventy per minute, or more than one every tick of the clock. With the one-a-second calculation every reader is familiar, but it is not everyone who stops to calculate what the annual supply will be to a year's supply. It will probably startle a good many persons to find, on the authority of a well-known statician, that could the infants of a year be ranged in a line in cradles, the cradles would extend round the globe. The same writer looks at the matter in a more picturesque light. He imagines the babies being carried past a given point in their mother's arms, one by one, and the procession being kept up night and day until the last hour in the twelve months had passed by. A sufficiently liberal rate is alowed, but even in going past at the rate of twenty a minute, 1,200 an hour during the entire year, the reviewer at his post would only have seen the sixth part of the infantile host. In other words, the babe that had to be carried when the procession began would be able to walk when but a mere fraction of its comrades had reached the reviewer's post; and when the year's supply of babies was drawing to a close, there would be a rearguard, not of infants, but of romping six-year-old boys and girls.

The New York Contest.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—A special to the World from Washington says: The interest felt in the senatorial contest about to come on in the state of New York is very much greater in Washington than appears from any dispatches that have been printed in the New York papers. The question whether Mr. Cleveland will refrain from taking any action to prevent Mr. Murphy's election is discussed as much in the capital of the country as it is in New York. Why it is that news of the real situation has been allowed to dribble out in interviews with casual legislators or with occasional callers on Mr Cleveland cannot be comprehended by those who are thoroughly familiar with the facts. It is known to a score of men who occupy prominent positions in the national legislature that Mr Cleveland is determinedly opposed to the selection of Mr. Murphy as senator from his own state.

THE DEMOCRAT.

EDITED AND PUBLISHED

By F. C. Thompson.

THURSDAY, DEC. 22, 1892.

THE DEMOCRAT extends christmas greetings to every reader and wishes for them a future of success.

IT is about time to turn a new leaf.

CONGRESS is busily engaged in trying to find out where it is at.

IN our next issue we will give our readers a beautiful and carefully edited christmas page.

THE anti option bill is being discussed in congress. It is thought that it will pass the senate with amendments when it will go back to the house.

HON. J. W. BAILEY came home to spend the holidays and to see his new born baby. Under these circumstances we presume that the public will excuse him if he accepts pay for time during his absence.

THE initial number of Worthington's Magazine has just reached our office. It is an excellent publication—filled with the choicest literature, published monthly by A.D.Worthington & Co., Hartford, Conn. Price $2.50 per annum.

A YOUNG farmer named Patton was murdered near Reinhart, Dallas county last Sunday. He had just sold a farm and his cold blooded assassins, no doubt, thought he had money. They did not get over caught there will probably be a lynching.

WE acknowledge receipt of The Waco Natatorium Co's. invitation to visit that beautiful city and see the wonderful artesian hot water wells there. The company has erected large buildings and are utilizing the water for the promotion of health. These waters are said to be equal to the Hot Springs of Arkansas for curing diseases.

What About the Force Bill?

Senator Palmer addressed the democratic John M. Palmer negro club at Washington Thursday evening. He advised them to cease speaking of themselves as a separate race and to accept no other treatment than that accorded other citizens. In conclusion he wanted them as a people to break loose from any particular political party and attach themselves where their judgment dictated.—Jackson Co. Era.

Receding!

The year 1892 is fast receding. Like the aged veteran of human life its tottering form is nearing the gate of past eternity, upon the threshold of which the feeble foot-steps softly and sadly fall as though reluctant to enter the mysterious abode.

"'Tis a time for memory and for tears."

The griefs and joys of the old year are passing out. While the weak and humble succumb to the inevitable, the mark of time is left on the brow of the strong and haughty.

"Remorseless time!
Fierce spirit of the glass and scythe!—what power
Can stay him in his silent course, or melt
His iron heart to pity?"

Before the gleaming blade all must bow. As we witness the departure of the present year and contemplate the certainty of death, how foolish it seems to engage in the blind,—mad rush for gain and power!

The more mysterious the future, the more humanity needs the sunlight of joy on earth. No human soul can be happy by adding misery to the existence of others. Let us, dear readers of the DEMOCRAT, as we wave our last farewell to the receding year, turn and grasp the new with better purposes in mind—let us strive to do right.

"Honor and shame from no condition rise;
Act well your part, there all the honor lies."

IN our next issue we will publish the celebrated poem, "The Closing Year," composed by Geo. D. Prentiss. In our humble judgment it is a grand literary production.

Mad Rush for Gain.

"In the mad rush for gain men not only forget the interest and happiness of others, but they close out the sunlight of joy from their own households."—McKinney Democrat.

There is a thought in the above of vital interest to the people—not so much because greed closes out the sunlight of joy from its own household, but because of its far-reaching effects upon the joy and happiness of all who may come within its influence. Its cultivation and development in the minds of men and especialy those who have been touched by the magic wand of gold, are almost beclouding and destroying the nobler impulses of the heart. "The mad rush for gain" has grown from a legitimate ambition, broad and humble enough to convey all along with it, to a destructive juggernaut which crushes in its wake all who unfortunately fall in its way. Greed has supplanted liberality in many hearts; honesty has been forced from the throne by this morbid principle, while thieving rascality stalks over the land with blatant effrontery. It is grabbing, with demon's hand, bread from the mouths of widows and orphans; it is exalting thieves, scoundrels and heartless creatures, in many instances, into gaudy palaces of luxury, while it is driving many men of worth and nobility of soul to the dark abodes of penury and want; it is sapping the vitality and laudable ambition from millions of human hearts, and filling them with slavish fears; it causes men to disregard the rights of their fellowmen, the demands of the law, and the authority of God. Greed! It is laying its bloody hands upon the government and robbing, without regard to a sovereign people, the richest lands, the wealth of labor and the vastness of America's resources. Great God! To contemplate this growing morbid selfishness and mad rush for gain, with its blighting attendant results, is enough to pale the cheek of the Christian and the philantropic heart, and cause men to look into each others faces and ask, where will it end? What remedy can the people invoke to arrest and check it? It seems as if Christianity cannot avail. This mad rush for gain has even entered the sacred precincts of the church and forced back the power of the ministry. The judiciary of the land, to a great extent, follows the beck and call of greed, instead of standing with the scales of justice and rightly weighing law and equity, and teaching men the principle of honesty and a proper regard for the rights of others, thus aiding in checking this cruel selfishness. The remedy must come, and we believe it can only come through a proper education of the plain people, who when once taught to rightly understand the causes of the mad rush for gain, will unite and overthrow the conditions which are teaching men to hug the foul demon of greed to their bosoms which impels them on, on in blind madness.—Myrtle Springs Alliance.

Arlington's Boom.

ARLINGTON, Tarrant Co., Tex.
Dec. 18, 1892.

Editor Democrat.

Some of your readers may be interested in hearing something about this part of the great State of Texas.

The little city of Arlington is 14 miles east of Ft. Worth and 18 miles west of Dallas. It is on the Texas Pacific, in the black-sandy loam district and contains about 1000 population. It is on a big boom now. A large number of residences are being built. There are several brick business houses, one more being constructed, and arrangements for a fine bank building and City Hall are being made. The artesian well is about 150 feet deep and is progressing nicely. There is much talk of an 8 or 10 room College building which will be built before very long if the present management under J. T Teel continues as successfully as it has from Sept. 1 to the present writing. If space would permit I should tell of other improvements.

You should visit our city. This is a good time and place to invest. Our enterprising business men have bought a very large quantity of grain and cotton here this year and all seem prosperous and happy.

GOOD LUCK.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is often called the Good-Luck Baking Powder.

Owing to the fact that good luck always attends the use of Dr. Price's, it is not essential to use it the moment it is mixed nor is it required to have the oven always just so, as in the case with ammonia or alum powders. It is not luck after all, but the exact accuracy and care exercised in the preparation and combination of all the ingredients of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. Competent chemists are employed to test the strength and purity of each ingredient. Nothing is trusted to chance. Hence it is always uniform in its work.

House wives never fail to have "good luck" in making most delicious bread, biscuit, pastry and cakes that remain moist and sweet. Only Baking Powder that contains the white of eggs.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

Subjects of sermons of the Christian church on Sunday will be:

At 11 a. m. "The past, the present and the future."

At 7 p. m. 'Our duty toward denominationalism." and this closes the present pastor's labors with the above named church.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes a all druggists to give those who call for it a samble bottle FREE, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

A large number of relatives and friends witnessed the happy event, who together with the DEMOCRAT extends congratulations and wishes for them placid waters as they sail across life's ocean.

ADMITTED THE FACTS.

Newspaper editors have to be very careful in opening their columns for statements. But aware that the Dr. Miles Medical Co., are responsible, we make room for the following testimonial from R. McDougall, Auburn, Ind., who for two years noticed a stoppage or skipping of the pulse, his left side got so tender he could not lie on it, his heart fluttered, he was alarmed, went to different doctors, found no relief, but one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure cured him. The elegant book, "new and startling facts," free at Smith Bros. drug store. It tells all about Heart and Nervous Diseases and many wonderful cures. 3

Anything Goes in Denton.

Mr. H. S. Moore says that he fails to find Biela's comet with his large telescope.—McKinney DEMOCRAT.

If Mr. Moore had been somewhere around about Denton, he would probably have heard about it.—Post Mirror.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severe attacks of pneumonia while in the northern port of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. For sale by R. E. Bristol, Druggist.

Mr. Vinson Goodman who lives 2 miles south of Princeton went to a neighbor's house to deliver a horse last Monday evening late. On his return home, he got lost and remained out all night. It being very dark he fell into a branch; consequently, he was nearly frozen to death when found the next day. He is 72 years old and his friends are uneasy for fear he will take sick.

Forgivenness if Not Forgetfulness.

MCKINNEY, Tex., Dec. 14.—The situation interests every citizen regardless of his party affiliations. The asperities, harshness and crabbedness created by the warring factions in the late campaign should be buried in a spirit of forgiveness if not that of forgetfulness. A brave man never gloats over the defeat of his opponent. The name of Grant will go down the centuries, not only because he was a great warrior, but because he was magnanimous in victory. There is a sentiment of justice and right underlying all the workings of this government that no party, however powerful can afford to ignore and if such a sentiment permeates the great mass of this liberty-loving, independent thinking American people, the wise statesman will follow its teachings. Texans are noted for their courage of convictions as well as their martial valor.

The party lash may for a time be used to drive the people from many much needed reforms, as was practiced by the republican party in the north through sectional prejudice, but with such a brave and chivalrous people the eternal principles of truth and right must and will prevail."

A railroad commission is wanted by the people but not a confiscatory one. The demagogical farce that the interests of the cities and towns are inimical to that of the country must be exploded and all should feel thankful that through a free pass the scales are dropping off the eyes of the people and they are beginning to see how far they have been duped and led astray by fears of imaginary wrongs to great detriment of many needed and just reforms.

I hear every day from every populist, republican and democrat a wish that the state government may be administered wisely and conservatively. I am asking nothing, want nothing, but hope that a policy will be pursued in the future which will redound to the interest of Texas. AARON COFFEE.

MONETARY MEDIUM.

Unit of Value, and Issuing Power of Money.

BY PROF. A. P. A. STRAIO.

Perplexing it may be to many whether there should be but one unit of value of money of a certain substance, as gold, or units of value of different substances, as gold, silver, nickel, etc. This, to have two more comparative units of value, is practical and just, provided the unit values are the same and can be made to continue so. But if these substances of unit values should fluctuate in value enough so as to be noteworthy, then there would be no specific meaning to a unit and would cause confusion.

For instance, say the units of value of different substances, gold, silver and nickel, were each made the same in value. Now, were they not kept so, having the dollar as the unit, then a dollar would have no specific value nor the term dollar no specific meaning. Under these conditions, say gold and silver should fluctuate in such a manner that the specified unit of silver was equal in value to twice the specified unit of gold, then a dollar of silver would be worth twice as much as a dollar of gold; and thus cause confusion in business and subject to contention.

To explain still more, we can compare this one unit of value of different substances to a unit of measure; as the unit in dry measure, where a bushel is the unit. Here it is to be seen that it matters not of how many different kinds of substances the bushel measure is made, whether of pine, poplar, oak or hickory, just so they are of the same size or hold the same amount. So, it matters neither how many different kinds of substances the unit of value is made, provided these different units of value would remain the same.

While I think that gold and silver would not fluctuate sufficiently to make a difference worthy of note and practically would answer, still it would not be as logical and staple a basis in the end as if but one unit of value, as of gold, would exist. But after the unit of value is once established it should remain so; for there is as much partiality and injustice to change the unit of value in money after transactions have been made as there is in changing the size of the bushel unit of measure after transactions have been made.

However, when money of intrinsic value, is not uniform in value, whether gold or other hard money of commercial value, owing to natural or other causes, it produces no changes in the price of commodities nor no one is there encroached; the fiat keeps it regulated. That is, it is not the material out of which the money is made, nor the commercial value of the article used that regulates prices of commodities; but it is the volume of money that regulates it. The object of having this unit of value specified, is to give certainty and stability in business, and insure justice in redeeming fiat currency. Or again, the object of having a unit value of money specified, is to ascertain its meaning and give a basis to make calculations in business; while the object of a uniform volume of money is to keep the prices regulated afterwards.

So, in consequence of a liability of the fluctuation in value of substances, through changes of time or condition of things, to a degree that more than one unit of value would cause confusion and depression in business, I conclude that one unit of value is the most just and stable. And being that gold has the most practical and durable amount of intrinsic value in proportion to bulk, I consider it the most appropriate for the standard or unit of value.

There should therefore be prescribed in the constitution of the United States:

"The unit of value of the United States shall be a gold dollar piece, at the standard weight of twenty-five and eight-tenths (25 8) grains."

Here it is to be seen that, by having gold as the standard of value, all other coins of different materials would be the same as fiat money to the extent their commercial value chanced not to be equal to their nominal value; while the commercial value and nominal value of the gold dollar is always the same.

Some appear to be in favor of units of value of both gold and silver, thinking that if there is but one material used there would be a scarcity of such material to redeem the other money. But, here, such persons fail to conceive the real office of the unit of value. It is to be understood that the office of the unit of value is merely to serve as a measure of value, and not for redeeming purposes any more than its equivalent.

Again, I have taken notice that there are some who don't seem to understand the importance of the unit of value; and appear to think that the stamp of the government is all that is required. But to discard the unit of value based upon some thing serviceable and rely entirely upon the government stamp on valueless articles, would be about as unjust and unstable a method and as subject to confusion in business as for everyone to make his own money.

For instance, were there such a method as this without any actual unit of value instituted, and nothing but the stamp mark on paper or other value less things relied on, then in the course of time in business or when the time for redemption of certain issues came on, the question would arise, what is a dollar? what does it call for?

Some then, might claim (putting it in the worst) that a dollar meant a horse or a mule, others a hundred grains of silver, and again others a quart of wheat. So that calling a horse or a mule worth a hundred dollars and a quart of wheat worth a nickel, the man who owed a dollar would in the first case have a hundred dollars to pay instead of the actual dollar, while in the last case he would have only a nickel to pay instead of the dollar.

So it is to be seen that there must be an actual unit of value; whereas, gold, the most precious of the metals, I have preferred. Here the value conferred by a dollar as the unit, is the service which it takes to go to the mountains and dig out, smelt, and clarify twenty five and eight-tenths grains of gold

The reason the issuing power of money and the jurisdiction thereof should be given to congress is because it is a matter relative to the people collectively of the United States.

The inconsistency of municipal corporations, or counties, or states to issue money and the inconvenience and injustice that results in consequence can best be realized by those who have had experience under such circumstances,

I remember once stopping in a town where there was a corporation of this kind; when just before leaving bought some articles, and in exchange received a bill which looked like all other money at a glance, which I thought it was, and put it into my pocket. Not long after, in a remote country, I produced this bill to pay for something I had bought, but to my disgust the bill was not accepted; and I found that it was useless in that country and only passible in the country under the said corporation. I sent the money back, asking in exchange United States money which I could make use of; but sorry to say, not for the amount I lost but for the lack of the government establishing universal justice, that until this day I never saw any more the bill nor its equivalent.

I have heard it said by persons advocating the issuing of money by certain municipalities or by states for selfish purposes, "that this kind of money is the kind to have as it always stays about home and doesn't take wings and leave the country." The only reason that could be given to it staying about home and not leaving the country is because no one would have it away from home on account of its worthlessness; and so would be deprived of the very function for which money is intended, namely, to be accepted at any and all places at par value for the payment of all obligations. Hence the folly of such a dogma.
